EYFS News

EYFS have had a great start to the term, with an explosion of colour! We began the new term learning about Diwali, the festival of light. We made our own Rangoli patterns, dressed up in bright and colourful dresses and made our own Diva lamps. We were very lucky to have Mr and Mrs Mehta visit and talk to us about how they celebrate Diwali including how they end their celebrations with fireworks.

This led us on to Bonfire night and learning about Guy Fawkes. Leo said "He was a bad man and not kind to his friends." We created some multi-coloured and sparkly firework pictures and talked about the sounds the fireworks make! PJ said he saw the fireworks and they went bang and whoosh but made him jump! In the garden we created our own bonfire, pretended to toast marshmallows and had a sing song!

Next, we thought about how many different colours there are and used the Elmer stories to explore colour and find out what happens when the colours are mixed together. We created some very colourful elephants! We then used our new phonics skills to have a go at writing a list of all the colours we could see on Elmer. There were lots to choose from!

In Maths, we have been working hard on our number bonds to 5 and exploring how many different ways there are to make the number 5. Josiah told us that he could use his fingers to show different ways of making 5. The children are getting very quick at telling you their number bonds now. They have also explored making 5 using different resources and were quick to spot 5 marbles in our marble treat jar. We are also looking for the number 5 in lots of different places. We will be searching for it outside school and at home too.

We look forward to learning more about colours, how colours make us feel and how they can be used to celebrate different festivals!
